This is the first time I have ever written a letter to any company I have done business with to let them know how I feel about the work that was done for us. My husband and I would like to take this opportunity to express our delight at the new look of our home. The replacement windows and vinyl siding have made such a difference, not only in the appearance of our home, but also in the respect of heat loss. We don't hear the wind coming through the windows anymore. The installers for the windows and the siding are to be commended for their workmanship. They take pride in their work and it shows. They were customer oriented and displayed a sincere desire to provide the best possible service. We feel that we have purchased a quality product, and we are glad we chose All-Seal.
